AUTO TRANS CONDITIONER

Code: TQ029
Date: 10-04-2017

DESCRIPTION

AUTO TRANS CONDITIONER is a versatile product used to stop or slow seal leaks in automatic transmissions and to condition automatic transmission fluids to prevent and correct deposit-caused automatic transmission problems. It is also beneficial in power steering and hydraulic systems that may have developed leaks due to the hardening of seals.

SUMMARY OF BENEFITS

- Stops and prevents leaks due to drying or shrinking seals whilst helping maintain the elasticity and pliability of new transmission seals
- Returns suppleness to neoprene and fibre-based seals to maintain internal pressure.
- Prevents oxidation and extends fluid life.
- Makes transmission operation smoother.
- Protects against build-up of performance depleting gums and varnish
- Maintains automatic transmission cleanliness, thereby helping to assure transmission life and performance.
- Stops and prevents rough shifting.
- Provides additional protection to automatic transmissions operating under high temperature conditions, such as trailer towing.
- Increases the life of automatic transmission fluids.
- Protects internal automatic transmission surfaces and automatic transmission fluid against rust and corrosion - problems caused by condensation heat and oxidation by-products.
- Compatible with factory approved automatic transmission fluids.

APPLICATION

AUTO TRANS CONDITIONER is compatible with all automatic transmission fluids. For automatic transmissions, add contents of 250ml bottle to automatic transmission. Do not overfill. Recommended for use at 5% by volume. If power steering treatment is necessary, add 1/3 (75ml) to power steering reservoir and balance to automatic transmission.
